

I do not think wisconsin's No Call law should be pre-empted by the looser, Federal version. It's absurd that tele-marketers are allowed to do what they do. It's bad enough I get calls at work, I do not want to get them at home. If I want a product or donate to an organization, I will contact them, it shouldn't be the other way around.